

July and August 2009

EXHIBITS

Mars Galleries

Watercolors by Bob Blake

Paintings of Durham's past by Duke Medical illustrator of forty years and former Director of Duke Medical Art.

Continues through July 27

Limited Edition Prints and Originals by local artist Kenny Glenn,

Works from his Southern Living Series, with favorites like "Blue Ridge Roost" and "Southern Majesty".

Continues through July 31st

Sarah P. Duke Gardens: Hane's Dream, Sarah's Gift, Our Treasure.

Exhibit celebrating "the crown jewel of Duke University". This exhibit explores the history of the gardens and many of its programs through photographs and artifacts.

Continues through August 17th

Eye Center Galleries

Tropical Treasures

from the collection of Marlene Braddy, RN (Duke Cardiac OR). Braddy's nursing has taken her to the South Pacific, Central America and the Caribbean. This exhibition features intricately woven pieces from Micronesia, the Marshall Islands and other tropical locations.

Touchable Art Gallery

Continues through September 15

Biologique Africaine:

Turned Wood Vessels by Bill Neville

Maker of fine furniture, Neville also turns and carves local and exotic woods. This exhibition is part of his 100 bowls project.

Reception Gallery

North Carolina Quilt Samplers from the Duke Hospital Collection

A wide variety of patterns created by NC quilters exclusively for display in Duke University Hospital.

Connector Gallery

31st Annual Duke Employee Art Show

Youth, Amateur, Intermediate and Professional Categories

Prizes from $25 - $300

To participate: You must be a Duke employee, volunteer, retiree or family member of an employee or retiree

Registration deadline is August 3, 2009.

Registration Forms Available at : nationalartsprogram.com

<http://hand.duhs.duke.edu>

Duke North and South information desks

Sponsored by National Arts Program, Duke Human Resources, and HAND

